The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to teach a method of aligning a substrate having first and second substrate marks, a device manufacturing method, a computer program with a plurality of instruction being executed on a computer to perform the device manufacturing method, among other features, comprising the steps of detecting an inclination of an alignment beam relative to a substrate table holding the substrate; adjusting the alignment beam to be perpendicular to the substrate table; aligning a first reference mark with the mark of the substrate table using the alignment beam; and aligning the first reference mark with the first mark of the substrate using the alignment beam.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
